Exploring the Rise of Travel Among Malaysian Millennials 探索大马千禧一代旅游的兴起

Exploring Malaysia's Niche Tourism Segment: The Rise of Millennial Travel, a Webinar was conducted by Tourism Malaysia with the active participation of professionals of the tourism industry and students alike. Other than sharing and discoursing on the rising trend of travelling amongst millennials and it's potential, the webinar that was held on July 8, 2021 also discussed the importance of promoting niche tourism products, as well as how best to incorporate more sustainable practices as we prepare to restart tourism once our country achieves herd immunity.

大马旅游局举办了一场网络研讨会, 探索马来西亚的小众旅游业区块:千禧一代旅游的兴起, 此网络研讨会见证了不同旅游专业人士和学生的积极参与。除了分享和探讨千禧一代旅行的上升趋势及其潜力, 此项于2021年7月8日举行的网络研讨会还讨论了推广区块较小的旅游产品之重要性, 以及如何方可以在我国正努力实现群体免疫后重启旅游业的目标之时提倡更高效率可持续性的做法。

2021 May Be the Worst Year on Record for Global Tourism 2021年可能是全球旅游业史上最差的一年

Although 2020 was dictated the "worst year on record" in the history of global tourism by the United Nations World Tourism Organisation (UNWTO), their latest data is quickly showing that 2021 may actually underperform 2020 and top the chart after all. This is evidently a rippled effect of the alarming emergence of COVID-19 variants, especially the Delta variant that has led to reimposition of restrictive measures by several nations. The only way to minimize the losses now would be to kickstart tourism as soon as possible. This can only be achieved by accelerating the pace of ongoing vaccination programmes worldwide.

尽管2020年被联合国世界旅游组织评为全球旅游业史上“有史以来最差的一年”, 但他们的最新数据如今却透露说, 2021年的表现可能甚至更逊于2020年, 并最终登顶榜单。这显然是令人心惶惶的新冠变种病毒之出现所带来的连锁反应, 尤其是导致多个国家重新采取限制性措施的Delta毒株。把损失率降到唯一的办法就是尽快重新启动旅游业。这只能通过加快全球如今正在如火如荼地进行着的疫苗接种计划之步伐方能实现。
